Yearbook Staff

Every year a group of students known as the Yearbook Staff works diligently to perfect a successful "Mac." One which relates to its readers the curricular and extracurricular activities of each student.

We try to please not only the student body, but the residents of the community also, as it is through their generous ads and contributions that we are able to publish such a book. Therefore we would like to take this chance to thank everyone who helped to make the production of this fifteenth edition of the annual yearbook possible.

Now with great joy and pride we present to you "The 1962 Mac."

The 1962 "Mac"

Volume XV

McGraw Central School

McGraw, New York

During our high school years, our memories form a picture. In that picture are special teachers, special classmates, and special events.

How do these teachers become special? It takes a smile, a kind word, and even The right discipline. No matter what personal inconveniences experienced, they are always willing and ready to return to school with a smile.

Many of the events in our picture that become special are through our episodes in two classes, band and chorus. The teachers are two who are outstanding. Because of this and countless other reasons, we dedicate the '62 yearbook to Mrs. Esther Gros and Mr. Patrick McGrady.

Judson is "letting off steam" while Velvet and Melvin are interested in more serious things.

Here are the Seniors, as they were from April 19 to April 23. Tours, sightseeing, food, and no sleep constituted five days of glorious, wonderful fun for twenty-six Seniors and four advisors. Speaking of advisors, they were very helpful and probably very, very tired. Thank you, Mr. and Mrs. Baer and Mr. and Mrs. Howe. We know you did a lot for the Seniors in five days.

Seniors, this is one page which cannot hold all your memories. They must be in your heart. Make sure you never forget your Senior Trip.

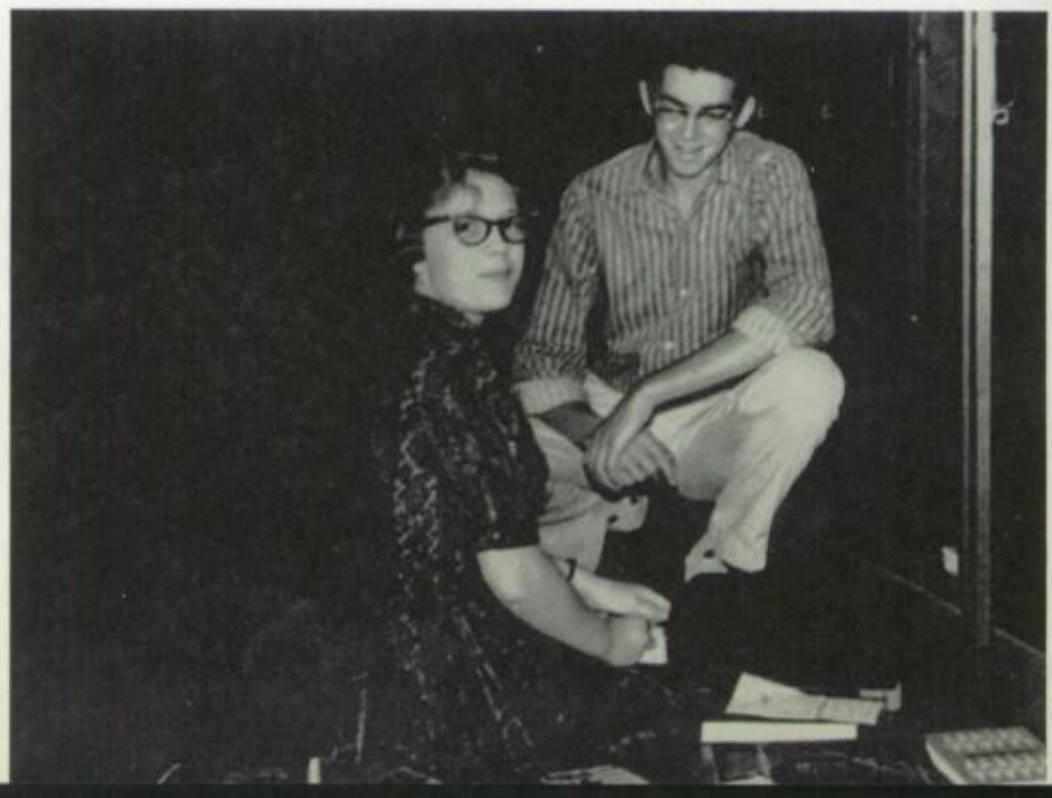
The Junior Prom is the big event of the year for the Juniors. Here Don Torrey crowns Stan Kullman as the king of the 1961 prom. Kay Allis has already been crowned queen by Jane Ferris. The theme of the prom was "Wonderland By Night."



Don is executing his rights as the slave owner of Joy. During the magazine sales, the two junior homerooms held a contest and the losers were penalized by being slaves to the higher selling class for one day.

These Sophomores have contributed the most time and effort at home games and dances. About four students sold each time with true class spirit. The boys labored at the pop machine while the girls gave "service with smiles." The profits help finance the class's senior trip.

John Smithkin, runner up to William Heath in the pencil sales among the freshman boys, is shown selling some of his pencils to Shannon Glassford while Vivian Tobias observes. Shannon sold the most pencils for the girls and Vivian came in second.

Oral reports are an important part of the French II class. Shown are Richard Dolly and Duane Alexander staging a terrifying scene. But don't worry, the gun wasn't loaded and the firecracker wasn't lit!
